Letter of accreditation
for collaboration research on Balkan Histories

New Media Center_kuda.org, Novi Sad, confirm that Vahida Ramujkic is invited to develop her investigation project on local history text-books in collaboration with our Center_kuda.org, having on disposal our space, equipments and archives for her needs, during the period of fall 2007. In this reason we are encouraging any possibility in her intention to get financial support for realizing this work.

New Media Center_kuda.org, Novi Sad took part as one of the hosts of itinerary project Lost Highway, part of wider project Europe Lost and Found, aim of which was looking for the possible future of Europe trough the actual situation on Balkans.

New Media Center_kuda.org is an independent organization which brings together artists, theoreticians, media activists, researchers and the wider public in the field of Information and Communication Technologies. In this respect, kuda.org is dedicated to the research of new cultural relations, contemporary artistic practice, and social issues.

Kuda.org's work focuses on questions concerning the influence of the electronic media on society, on the creative use of new communication technologies, and on contemporary cultural and social policy. Some of the main issues include interpretation and analysis of the history and significance of the information society, the potential of information itself, and the diffusion of its influence on political, economic and cultural relationships in contemporary society. New Media Center_kuda.org opens space for both cultural dialog and alternative methods of education and research. A social question, media culture, new technologies art, and the Open Source and Free Software principal are areas in which kuda.org is engaged.
